Queenslanders for Constitutional Monarchy

QCM People

SIR ALBERT ABBOTT, of Mackay Qld is a foundation patron of OCM, and as a former RSL president, has contributed greatly to the cause of veterans and their families.

REV. WILF BLAKE, of Albany Creek Qld is a foundation patron, and a well known Baptist pastor who is noted for his educational innovations and Christian schooling in the Brisbane region.

LADY FLORENCE BJELKE-PETERSEN, of Kingaroy Qld, is a foundation patron of QCM and as an elected delegate for OCM at the Constitutional Convention at Canberra, argued strongly for our constitutional monarchy. Lady Flo is a former long-serving Senator for Queensland, and the widow of the late Sir Joh, who was Queensland's longest serving and greatest Premier.

QCM People

CR THE HON YVONNE CHAPMAN, of Kallangur, Qld is a foundation patron and president and one of the key-note speakers who launched QCM a decade ago at the Kedron-Wavell RSL in Chermside, Q., when the Australian flag was raised and a solemn declaration was taken to defeat the republican-socialist push. Today she is the long-serving mayor of Pine Rivers Shire. She was also a former State Government minister and MLA for her district.

MICHAEL DARBY, of Manly, NSW, is QCMs inaugural web master, and chaired QCM's giant 1999 referendum launch and rally in Brisbane, which led to the defeat of the elitist republican push later that year. It was Mr. Darby who first urged monarchists in Brisbane to organise QCM as a fighting movement to defeat republican ambitions in Qld. As a consequence, this State led the nation and other States in rejecting republican schemes to dismantle the constitution.

QCM People

PASTOR DAVID DOUGLAS, of Slacks Creek, Q., is a past QCM president, who has vigorously campaigned for the constitutional monarchy in a number of capacities. For decades as a Church of God preacher, he promoted the concept that the forthcoming Kingdom of God on earth would be a monarchy and republicans best get used to it now.

DR. RUPERT GOODMAN, AM, BA, D.Ed, PhD, TPTC, BHD(ANU), FACE, of St. Lucia in Brisbane, is a patron of QCM, and a renowned “Rat of Tobruk” who made a name for himself as an educator on his return from the War. He was also a long-serving president of the Australian Flag Association, and as such, raised the Flag at QCMs inaugural rally.

Queenslanders for Constitutional Monarchy

QCM People

TOM KING, of the Gold Coast, Q., is the serving QCM president. Tom has had a remarkable career in the Queensland public service, and as an innovator of note, has held the highest offices in political movements in Queensland. He is a frequent contributor in the letters-to-the-editor columns of Queensland newspapers.

BRUCE RUXTON, OBE, AM., Legion d'Honneur, of Tewantin, Q., is an inaugural patron of QCM from interstate, where many know him as “Mr. RSL” because of his decades of selfless service to defence interests, RSL, and veteran organisations and their families. After his return from the war in the Pacific, he was elected president of the Victorian RSL, and national vice-president, and was a leading campaigner in the defeat of the republican referendum of 1999.

Queenslanders for Constitutional Monarchy

QCM People

DR. GLEN SHELL, MBBS, FRCP, FRACGP, of Paddington, Qld is an elected QCM delegate to the Constitutional Convention as well as a QCM foundation patron. He was a long-serving Senator for Queensland in the Federal Parliament, and has had a distinguished medical career.

DON SISSON, CD, M.Pub.Adm., BAA(J), Dip 3., of Aspley, Qld is foundation general secretary and convener of QCM, and editor of Crown, the official journal of QCM. As a journalist, he has held sundry offices in capital city, metro and country newspapers as well as service with military, public service and political establishments.

REV. DR NOEL WALLIS, Bd., Mth., ThD., of Forest Lake, Q., is a QCM patron, who has held numerous church positions, written books, and been active in veteran organisations.
